

AXEL COVER FOR A VEHICLE

ABSTRACT

An axle cover for a vehicle is made from a casting with inner and outer peripheral portions that give clearance on the inner portion of the casting to fit properly on the axle, and outer peripheral portions that resemble a spoke or fan which are integrally formed by a casting, molding, casting or die casting process as a one piece structure.